SENATE HAD A SEANCE

President Passes Up Appointment and Hay-Pauncefote Treaty.

THE BURROWS ANTI-ANARCHIST BILL.

Provision Made For Excluding and Deporting Aliens Who Flaunt the Red Flag—Congressman Dick Contributes to the Hopper.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The senate was the only congressional branch in session Wednesday. The early business included a flood of executive communications mainly formal. One of them, from the attorney general, submitted the compilation of the laws of Porto Rico, in English and Spanish, as ordered by the last congress.

The president sent a number of recess appointments to the senate and the new appointment of George W. Lieberth of Kentucky to be collector of internal revenue for the Sixth district of Kentucky. Among the recess appointments sent in was that of Attorney General Knox.

The president also sent to the senate the new Hay-Pauncefote treaty for an isthmian canal.

Senator Fairbanks introduced a bill for the admission of Oklahoma as a state and providing that the capital shall be located at a town to be called McKinley in honor of late president.

Senator Hale reintroduced the Pacific cable bill as it passed at the last session of congress. It provides for the construction by the government of a cable from the western coast of the United States to Hawaii.

Senator Hoar introduced a bill for the protection of the president of the United States. It provides that any one who shall kill the president or shall make an attempt upon the life of the president shall be punished by death. Any person who shall counsel or advise the killing of the president shall be imprisoned 20 years. Any person who shall aid the escape of a person concerned in the killing or counseling the killing of the president shall be punished equally as an accomplice.

Senator Burrows introduced a bill "to provide for the exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists." The first section of the bill is as follows: "That no alien anarchists shall hereafter be permitted to land at any port of the United States or be admitted into the United States, but this prohibition shall not be so construed as to apply to political refugees or political offenders other than such anarchists be."

The second section directs the special board of inquiry authorized by the immigration laws to make a diligent investigation concerning the antecedents of any alien seeking admission into the United States who is suspected of being an anarchist, authorizing the board to even go to the extent of examining the person of suspected aliens for marks indicative of membership in anarchistic societies.

Section three provides for the return of persons to their native countries who have secured admission to the United States contrary to law and afterward have been found to be anarchists. The fourth section provides that when any alien is convicted of crime in any United States court and it shall appear from the evidence that he is an anarchist, the presiding judge shall direct a further hearing, and if the judge is satisfied that the convicted alien is an anarchist or that his remaining in this country will be a menace to the government or society in general, he may direct that in addition to other punishments adjudged the convicted alien after undergoing such punishments shall be deported at the expense of the United States to the country from which he came and if he returns to the United States shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for a period not exceeding five years and afterward again deported. Provision is made for the appointment of 12 immigration agents at a salary of $2,500 each to make investigations in foreign countries concerning intended immigrants.

The sixth and last section of the bill provides that the "fact that an alien has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States shall constitute no bar to proceedings against him under this act."

When Mr. Hoar sought to advance the consideration of certain pension bills, Mr. Morgan (Ala.) objected, remarking: "There is too much slack on pensions and I would like to tighten it up a little."

Mr. McComas (Md.) gave notice that he would address the senate at its next session concerning assaults upon the president; the deportation of anarchists, etc.

Mr. Vest (Mo.) offered a resolution proposing an inquiry by the committee on judiciary as to the powers of congress to deal with anarchy, to suppress the teaching of anarchy and to provide a penal colony for convicted anarchists.

Senator Lodge introduced a bill providing for the removal of 10 years limitation on the Chinese exclusion act, thus leaving the provisions of the Geary act in force. The act approved May 5, 1892, excluded the Chinese indefinitely, but the Scott act of Nov. 3, 1893, limited the exclusion to 10 years. In case there is not legislation in the meantime the 10 years limit would expire next May.

Senator Lodge introduced a bill to provide revenues for the Philippine Islands. It provides that the tariff bill passed by the Philippine commission Sept. 17, 1901, and approved by the secretary of war shall remain in full force and effect. This covers goods going into the islands. The second section of the bill provides for levying the same duty and tariff on goods coming into the United States from the Philippine Islands as are now collected from foreign countries. Section 3 provides that until otherwise ordered statutory laws of the United States shall not be in force in the Philippine Islands except as ordered by the Philippine commission. Section 4 provides that all duties collected in the Philippine Islands shall be paid into the Philippine treasury.

Senator Hale introduced a number of bills, drafts of which were prepared at the navy department and were recommended by Secretary Long. One provides for creating the grade of four vice admirals and reducing the number of rear admirals to 14 and others to increase the number of lieutenants from 300 to 350 and the number of junior lieutenants and ensigns from 350 to 600; to increase naval constructors from 40 to 60; increase civil engineers from 21 to 40; to change the title of naval cadet to midshipman and increase the number of cadets by allowing 10 annual appointments by the president.

Senator Hansborough reintroduced his irrigation bill of last session with various amendments. It provides for the setting aside of the moneys derived from the sale of public lands in the arid and semi-arid regions of the United States and the collection of these moneys in a fund to be used for reclamation of the arid lands. The secretary of the interior is given charge of this fund and of all the details of its collection and expenditure. He is authorized to make surveys and construct reservoirs where necessary and to condemn the lands necessary to do so. Water is to be distributed and persons whose lands are benefited are to pay for the same, funds thus collected to go into the reclamation fund. The secretary of the interior is authorized to immediately ascertain and designate what are arid and semi-arid lands.

Mr. Tillman (S. C.) secured the passage of the house resolution admitting free of duty foreign exhibits to the Charleston exposition.

At 2:10, on motion of Mr. Cullor, the senate went into executive session. At 2:34 the senate adjourned.

In the executive session of the senate the new Hay-Pauncefote treaty was received and referred to committee on foreign relations. No remarks were made apropos of its presentation.

Among the many measures dropped into the hopper of the house are bills by Mr. Showalter of Pennsylvania for a constitutional amendment prohibiting polygamy, and by Mr. Dick of Ohio a constitutional amendment substituting April 30 for March 4 as the date of commencement of terms of the president, vice president, senators and members of the house.

Mr. Dick (O.) introduced a resolution for a general investigation of the abridgment of the right to vote in certain states, with a view to reducing congressional representation from such states. The resolution recites that "it is a matter of common information and belief that the rights of some male citizens, being 21 years of age, to vote at elections, is denied and abridged in certain states."

Congressman Williams (Miss.) introduced a resolution that a committee be appointed by the speaker for the purpose of investigating and reporting to the house of representatives the truth or falsity of the statements as made in the naval history by E. S. Maclay, the truth or falsity of the allegations that proof sheets were submitted to and acquiesced in by said Captain Crowninshield and the said Rear Admiral Sampson, and to recommend to the house of representatives the course of action to be pursued by the house in consequence of the ascertainment of fact to be made by the said committee.

Congressman Pearre (Rep. Md.) has proposed a plan of dealing with tariff and trusts somewhat similar to the plan proposed last year by Congressman Babcock which caused much discussion. Mr. Pearre's bill authorizes and directs the suspension of tariff duties upon imports when their sale or manufacture are monopolized. Provision is also made for a commission to report to president on the subject.

RESPONSIBILITY FIXED

Engineer Strong Not Alone Censured For Wabash Catastrophe.

RAILROAD COMPANY ALSO BLAMED.

Coroner's Jury Declares the Fireman Conductor and Brakeman Were Likewise Negligent in Not Obeying the Company's Rules.

Adrian, Mich., Dec. 4.—The coroner's jury found that the disastrous collision on the Wabash railroad near Seneca last Wednesday night between trains 13 and 4, was caused by the negligence of the Wabash railroad company and the trainmen of train 4.

The verdict says the railway company was negligent in failing to provide train 4 with a head-end brakeman and in failing to provide proper signals at the meeting of trains. Engineer Aaron T. Strong was found negligent in failing to properly understand and obey the order under which the train was running. Conductor George J. Martin was found negligent in failing to signal the engineer to stop and in failing to apply the airbrakes when the engineer did not give the proper signal immediately after passing the station signal at Seneca, according to the company's rules. Fireman Bastian was found negligent in failing to remind the engineer of his order when the engineer failed to give the proper signal and slow up at Seneca. Brakeman A. W. Dittman was found negligent in failing to signal the engineer to stop and in failing to apply the airbrake until after the train had passed the station at Seneca when the engineer did not give the proper signal while nearing Seneca.

SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE.

Railroad Officials Say It Is Over But Switchmen Say It Isn't.

Pittsburg, Dec. 4.—Reports concerning the status of the switchmen's strike are conflicting. Railroad officials and officers of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen declare that the strike is over and that traffic is moving as usual, while switchmen assert that no strikers have returned to work and that the roads concerned are all more or less crippled.

That serious freight congestion exists is not denied and numerous manufacturing concerns are suffering for supplies of coal, coke and ore. Officials of these companies claim that it is not a question of cars but that the railroad companies have not sufficient motive power to handle cars. It was reported that the Duquesne plant of the Carnegie company at Duquesne, Pa., and the National Tube works at McKeesport would be forced to close down Thursday, but officials say that while there is considerable stock piled up, there is no probability of an early suspension of the plants. The tube works switchmen are still working and say they will not strike. On the Union railroad of the Carnegie company the men have quit and the line is said to be almost tied up.

Two carloads of men arrived at the Union yards and it is said they will be put to work. The steel company's police have been more than doubled.

Dispatches from Glassport, Pa., report the closing down of the steel hoop mill on account of the switchmen's strike. Several hundred men are said to be idle. The forge department of the Dewees-Wood mill at McKeesport is idle and other departments will have to close, it is said, if the strike is not declared off soon. National rolling mill is partially closed and about 350 men idle on account of the inability to get coal. The situation of the Willow Grove yards of the Pittsburg and Western has not changed. Four crews of switchmen are still working. On the Allegheny Valley road the strikers claim but five crews are working.

Declared Off.

New York, Dec. 4.—It is authoritatively stated that negotiations looking to the formation of a big steel plate combination have been declared off. It is also stated that there is little likelihood at present of the project being revived. The proposed combine was to have a capital of $25,000,000 to $50,000,000, and it was generally supposed at the time the negotiations were in progress that the combination was being organized in the interest of the United States Steel corporation.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The navy department received the following cablegram from Captain Perry, commanding the battleship Iowa, dated Panama, Dec. 1: "I have re-embarked all of our force from the isthmus, perfect security of transit being restored."

Vancott Holds His Job.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The president and Postmaster General Smith had a conference at which it was decided to re-appoint Cornelius Vancott postmaster at New York; Dwight H. Bruce postmaster at Syracuse and W. H. Smythe postmaster at Owego.

HIGH COMPLIMENT

Paid a Former Minister of Maysville—Planning For the Big St. Louis Exposition.

[Correspondence of BULLETIN.]

St. Louis, December 2nd, 1901. Editor Bulletin:—When in 1893 the great Napoleon for $15,000,000 sold to the United States the Louisiana territory he little dreamed, perhaps, what an empire he was parting with, or that a century later would see it organized into twelve states and two territories wherein 15,000,000 of people would dwell who would own $20,000,000,000 of taxable property, else this conqueror of continental Europe might have hesitated to transfer that vast domain to the government then presided over by that ablest of all our statesmen, the wise and far-sighted Jefferson. It seems fitting, therefore, that in celebrating the centennial of that great event the part then played by the "Little Corporal" in that far-reaching transaction may well be taken somewhat into account, and it has been suggested that one of the features of the St. Louis World's Fair of 1903 shall be a collection of Napoleonic relics such as the war chest and campaign maps used by that military genius and great war captain in the field while he was engaged in the subjugation of Germany, Austria and Italy, about an hundred years ago. It is said, too, that manuscripts and state papers of the Napoleonic regime can be secured, as well as paintings of the great General in the palace of Versailles and the Louvre, and paintings of all the members of the Bonaparte family.

It is also suggested that the tomb of the St. Helena exile in the Hotel des Invalides be reproduced as a central Napoleonic exhibit and that a great number of relics, such as the imperial robes of Napoleon and Josephine which were used at their coronation, the trappings of the famous white Arabian war horse of the little Corsican, his field glasses, uniforms, &c., &c., can be brought here.

It is proposed, too, to have a strong representation of the army and navy not only of France, but of all the nations of the earth. In a word, to have a military congress in which the entire world shall be represented and in which each nation shall show its peculiar army and navy equipment from the marine with his scimeter and boarding ax to the artilleryman with his mitrailleuse and siege gun. Their camp equipment will also be shown, their modes of camp life, their dress, arms, accoutrements, &c. Exhibit drills will be given in prize contests, sham battles will be fought and there will be seen the only instance in the history of the world where all its armies and navies have met in friendly rivalry and upon terms of good fellowship. In these military exhibits and contests the states will take an active interest, and who knows but some gallant Kentucky regiment may teach the nations of the earth the perfection of the soldiers' art, and, in harmony with the history and traditions of your glorious old commonwealth, shall show to all mankind what is already known wherever Kentucky valor has been put to the test, that the ideal soldier is the Kentucky soldier.

In my letter the other day I told you your former townsman, Rev. Mr. Cree, had been selected from among the dozen or more ministers of the Christian Church here to deliver the sermon on the occasion of the union Thanksgiving services of that denomination. He has now discharged that duty and it is needless to say he rose to the height of the occasion and acquitted himself splendidly. His address was a masterpiece, a model of literary taste and scholarly excellence, and the evident work of a thinker. The orator was much complimented at its close. Indeed, one of the older of the Christian Church ministers, Rev. O. A. Bartholomew, pronounced the effort of Mr. Cree the ablest Thanksgiving address he had heard in fourteen years. There are ministers of learning and ability in the Christian Church in St. Louis, such as Bartholomew, Garrison, Brandt and Moore, but Mr. Cree measures up with the best of them, and for sermons of force and ability, brimful of downright spirituality and helpfulness, his are second to those of none of his brother preachers here. He seems to know nothing of the fads and follies of the city pulpit, but relies alone upon systematic study and careful preparation to enable him to present to his hearers the great truths he pleads with that eloquence and power which are born of conviction and of an earnest wish to show to them the better way. He is bound to succeed.

SALISBURY GUILTY.

Jury Convicts Him of Bribery In the Grand Rapids Waterworks Deal.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 4.—The jury in the bribery case against City Attorney Lant K. Salisbury, returned a verdict of guilty.

Salisbury was indicted by the grand jury last summer on the charge of accepting a bribe of $75,000 for his assistance in pushing through a deal by which the city of Grand Rapids was to award to eastern capitalists a $4,000,000 contract for furnishing the city water from Lake Michigan.

One of the sensational features of the trial was the charge of the prosecution that Senator George Nichols, one of Salisbury's attorneys, attempted to bribe the prosecution's principal witness. Indicted with Salisbury were Henry A. Taylor, a young New York millionaire, Thomas McGarry, an attorney, and Stilson V. McLeod.

Judge Newham denied the motion to quash the contempt proceedings against State Senator George Nichols, charged with attempting to bribe the chief witness for the prosecution while acting as attorney for Lant K. Salisbury. He ordered the contempt proceedings stayed and directed the prosecuting attorney to proceed against Mr. Nichols on the charge of subornation of perjury.

Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 4.—Jencke's hominy mill, with a capacity of 1,000 bushels per day, and two cottages adjoining burned, loss $50,000, insurance $25,000. Two firemen were badly injured by a falling roof.

THE ISTHMIAN CANAL

Should Be Built by the United States Across Nicaragua.

SO SAYS THE CANAL COMMISSION.

Comparative Cost and Advantages of Panama Canal and the Route Proposed in the Report to Congress—Washington News.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The report of the isthmian canal commission was sent to congress Wednesday. The commission as anticipated several weeks ago, favors the Nicaragua route and makes an estimate of $189,864,062 as the total cost of construction of the canal through Nicaragua. The estimated cost of the Panama route is $143,234,358, but, the report says, it would cost $109,141,000 to obtain the Panama concession. The commission values the work done at $40,000,000. The report says the Panama route is feasible as a sea level canal, while the Nicaragua route must be by locks, but Nicaragua lake will furnish an inexhaustible supply of water for the canal. The Nicaragua route has no natural harbors at either end, but satisfactory harbors may be constructed. Harbors already exist at each end of the Panama route, but most work could be done at the entrance of the harbor on the Atlantic side. With adequate force and plant the commission estimated that the Nicaragua canal can be completed in six years, exclusive of two years for preparation. Ten years is estimated to complete the Panama. The total length of the Nicaragua route is 183.66 miles and the Panama route 49.99 miles. The estimated cost of operating and maintaining the Nicaragua canal annually is $1,350,000 greater than that of the Panama canal. The estimated time for a deep draught vessel to pass through the Panama canal is 12 hours and through the Nicaragua canal 33 hours. The Nicaragua route, the report says, is more advantageous for commerce save that originating on the west coast of South America. For the gulf ports the advantage is two days and for most of the ports on the Atlantic and Pacific one day. The Nicaragua route is said to be better for sailing vessels on account of favorable winds. Hygienic conditions also favor Nicaragua. The commission says the United States should acquire control of a strip of territory 10 miles wide from sea to sea through which to build the canal. The consent of Nicaragua and Costa Rica must be obtained to construct the canal, but the report says this can easily be secured. The concessions granted by the Colombian government to the Panama Canal company have many years to run and new concessions cannot be granted the United States.

The report concludes as follows: "After considering all the facts developed by the investigations made by the commission, the actual situation as it now stands, and having in view the terms offered by the new Panama Canal company, this commission is of the opinion that the most practicable and feasible route for an isthmian canal to be under the control, management and ownership of the United States is that known as the Nicaragua route."

ONE of the new members of Congress from Missouri introduced only eighteen public building bills the first day of the present session. He probably imagines every cross-roads postoffice ought to be located in a Government building. Each of his bills calls for from $50,000 to $1,000,000.

EX-GOVERNOR BRADLEY and Hon. John W. Yerkes, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, erstwhile warm political friends, have had a serious clash and never speak now as they pass by. In an interview at Cincinnati this week Gov. Bradley said:

"Mr. Yerkes has a very bad case of big head and has grown too big for his political breeches, as I stated in a letter to a gentleman who had written me requesting a letter of recommendation to the Commissioner. I wrote him that Mr. Yerkes's attitude was far beyond the reach of recommendation from the plain, humble footing of a man like myself."

This is really too bad. The secret of Mr. Bradley's wrath is probably found in the fact that the late President McKinley was disposed to consult some other Kentucky Republicans about the disposal of the Kentucky patronage instead of turning it all over to Billy. And Mr. Yerkes was a close friend of McKinley.

CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS.

They Are a Big Drain on the State Treasury—Pauper Idiots in Mountain Counties—Taxation.

State Auditor Coulter's report, which has just been completed for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1900, and June 30, 1901, shows the amount of cash in the Treasury at the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, 1901, was $395,148.70; that on July 1, 1900, it was $570,347.69; that the total receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901, were $4,447,474.51. Of this amount $1,404,465.63 was placed in the general expenditure fund. This fund, to which 15 cents tax on each $100 worth of property goes to defray ordinary expenses, is, the Auditor says, entirely inadequate to defray such expenses.

He estimates there will be on hand in the Treasury on January 1, 1902, after the Sheriff's report, about $1,000,000, but that not one dollar of this amount will be in the general expenditure fund under the present law. The State paid out during the year for criminal prosecutions $595,692.30, which is an enormous increase.

The idiot claim table shows that there are now 2,040 persons charges upon the State, at an expense per person of $75 a year.

The general expenditure fund tables show that there are eighty-four pauper counties in the State—that is, the State pays them more money than they pay back into the Treasury.

The Auditor calls attention to the fact that over $60,000,000 of bank deposits annually escape taxation. The report shows that $7,000 of the $100,000 in the Goebel reward fund has been paid out.

The engagement is announced of Miss May Lindsay Jones, of Mt. Sterling, and William Arthur Fite, of Palmyra, Mo., the marriage to take place at the Somerset Church, near Mt. Sterling, on the 25th day of December. Thomas R. Wilson, of the Bible College of Kentucky University, will perform the ceremony. Mr. Fite is a former graduate of the Bible College and has a number of friends here and at Washington who remember him pleasantly and will wish him happiness. He was minister of the Washington Christian Church a few years ago.

Between the ages of fifteen and forty-five, the time when womanhood begins and motherhood ends, it is estimated that the aggregate term of woman's suffering is ten years. Ten years out of thirty! One third of the best part of a woman's life sacrificed! Think of the enormous loss of time! But time is not all that is lost. Those years of suffering steal the bloom from the cheeks, and brightness from the eyes, the fairness from the form. They write their record in many a crease and wrinkle. What a boon then to women, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It promotes perfect regularity, dries up debilitating drains, heals ulceration, cures female weakness, and establishes the delicate womanly organs in vigorous and permanent health. No other medicine can do for woman what is done by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

D. HUNT & SON

DIED AT LEBANON.

A Sister of Rev. J. M. Evans Summoned to Her Reward After a Life of Usefulness.

Died in Lebanon, Ky., Dec. 2nd, Miss Annie E. Evans, youngest sister of Rev. J. M. Evans, of Maysville, and Rev. Dr. W. W. Evans, of Carrollton, Ky. The death of this good woman, though not unexpected, has touched a large circle of friends with its sorrow. The Carlisle Mercury pays this tribute to her:

Her life had been one of service, as a sister or neighbor, or Christian. To help somebody, seemed to be the great aspiration of her being, and all her ministries were sanctified by her consecration to Christ. When a child she gave her heart to Him, and her whole life has been one of faithful witnessing and serving. Her death leaves a mournful vacancy in the community where her work was appreciated, and the church to whose welfare she gave such steadfast devotion will grieve that one so useful should be called away, yet her memory will long abide as a benediction on those who are left to do the work of the Lord.

The last weeks of her life were full of acute suffering, but the presence of Christ was all sufficient and with unshaken faith she committed her soul to His keeping. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Scudder Wednesday morning in the Presbyterian Church at Moorefield in the presence of a large company of sympathizing people. She was buried in Carlisle Cemetery.

THE BEE HIVE

MISS EMILINE BEE HIVE

The Queen of the young people, sent to us direct by old Santa Claus, will make her first appearance in the centre window on Tuesday night. Miss Emiline brings with her the greatest collection of presents ever shown in Maysville. We received a letter from her on Saturday and she writes as follows:

SANTA CLAUS' HOME.

Merz Bros, Maysville, Ky, My Dear Friends—I leave here Saturday at 3:15 with old Santa, and if the roads are not bad will see you on Tuesday afternoon. Santa Claus told me he was in Maysville in October, and went through every store in your town and after looking through all of them he decided to send me to your store, and oh! I am so happy, because old Santa told me that you have the nicest store in town, and the nicest clerks and that more little children trade at your store than all of the others together. Be sure and tell all the children to come and see me, and tell them I am bringing the prettiest things along with me, and so very many. Tell the children I am bringing things for their papas, mamas and their brothers and sisters. I think old Santa Claus is bringing too many things for your town. It seems to me he is sending enough Xmas presents for a city like New York. I must stop now. Hoping to find you all well I am with lots of love, your little friend,

EMILINE.

We hope our young friends will give Miss Emiline a great reception.

A HAPPY HOME WEDDING.

Marriage of Mr. Beecher Holiday and Miss Atta L. Dresel Qu'etly Solemnized Last Evening.

The residence of 'Squire and Mrs. F. Dresel, 1238 East Second street, was the scene of a happy event last evening, the occasion being the marriage of their oldest daughter, Miss Atta L. Dresel, to Mr. Beecher Holiday.

In the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends of the couple, the ceremony was solemnized by R. E. Moss, minister of the Christian Church. The conventional form one is so accustomed to hear on such occasions was not used, but in sentences glowing with beautiful figures the ceremony that made the twain one was spoken by the young minister, and the happy couple renewed their troth, first plighted in private. The ceremony closed with a touching prayer that the newly wedded might consecrate themselves to Christ and his church.

Congratulations and sincere good wishes were showered upon the couple, and then the bridal party and guests repaired to the dining room where the wedding supper awaited them.

The bride, a stately and beautiful brunette, was gowned in white organdy and lace, with malene trimmings and a sash of white ribbon. She carried a shower bouquet of white and pink roses. The groom is one of Maysville's worthy and industrious young men, and is a son of Mrs. Nannie Holiday, of East Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. Holiday will make their home for the present with the groom's mother. Their many friends unite in congratulations and sincere good wishes.

Return of the Favorites.

The Keystone Dramatic Company began a three nights and Saturday matinee engagement at the opera house to-night. The "Keystones" are still headed by Miss Gertrude Shipman and Mr. Lawrence B. McGill, and will be remembered for their fine performances here last season. The company have added more plays to their already extensive repertoire. The list includes some of the latest New York successes and will be presented entire, as special scenery is carried for each play. Special vaudeville features have been engaged and will appear at every performance. The engagement will open with an elaborate production of "Utah." Lady free to-night when accompanied by another person holding one paid 30 cent ticket.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Wallingford, an aunt of Mr. B. A. Wallingford, died recently at her home in St. Louis. She was the widow of D. P. Wallingford, at one time State Insurance Commissioner of Missouri, and brother of the late Joseph Wallingford.

Mr. Archie Bedford, a well known farmer and stock buyer of Bourbon, was perhaps fatally injured. While driving, his horse became frightened and ran away. Mr. Bedford was thrown out, striking on his head, and cutting a deep gash and probably fracturing his skull.

Sol. Smith Russell, the famous actor, whose home is now in Washington, was recently stricken with locomotor ataxia, and the malady has progressed unchecked until now the kindly Thespian is denied the use of his legs. He is pushed in a go-cart by a colored man. There is no hope that he will ever be able to resume his old part on the stage, which is indebted to him for some of its quaintest and drollest impersonations.

Many of the 5 per cent. bonds issued by the new Cincinnati, Georgetown and Portsmouth Electric Railroad Company are being floated at Ripley. The Bee estimates that about $100,000 worth of the bonds will be taken at that point.

The marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Barnes, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Barnes, of Nicholasville, and Mr. John B. Harris is announced to take place at the M. E. Church, South, at Nicholasville December 12th. The bride has been a visitor in Maysville and is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Roe.

The Latest Swindle.

An exchange thus tells of a new swindling scheme: "A new fangled con game is being successfully worked in some portions of the State. Women are the victims and they have lost amounts ranging from $5 to $25. An individual with a bundle of fine silks visits a house to sell magnificent silk dress patterns at ridiculously low prices. The goods are delivered on the spot and the cash paid over. The next day two men arrive at the house and ask if a silk dress of so many yards has been purchased and exactly described the goods. The reply is always in the affirmative. The men then show a star on their breasts, alleging that they are detectives, and that the silks have been stolen from a Cincinnati store. They claim the goods and take them, not refunding any money."

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Sallie T. Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. A. Carr, of Ripley, to Mr. Lew H. Blake, of Washington, D. C., has been made. Mr. Blake is a lawyer by profession, but is now in the Government service at Washington.
